DeGaulle Back In Algeria For Inspection

French Premier Will Deliver Policy Statement

ALGIERS (AP) — Premier de Gaulle returned to Algeria today to inspect troops and deliver a policy statement. He is expected to spell out at least some of his plans for this troubled North African territory.

It was his fourth visit to Algeria since assuming the premiership June 1.

He is delivering a policy statement at Constantine Friday.

The mixed peoples of Algeria—French, Arabs and Berbers — waited with mixed emotions for clarification of his intentions toward the territory, offcially regarded in Paris as part of France.

Contributed Heavily

They had contributed heavily (about 30-1) to the landslide endorsement Sunday of De Gaulle's new constitution. The Fifth French Republic, with the strongest executive branch the nation has known for three quarters of a century, will be born under the new charter next Sunday.

The tone of the reception by Algeria's French settlers, outnumbered by North Africans about 9-1, was intended to remind De Gaulle that his victory in the constitutional referendum was an outgrowth of their May 13 right-wing uprising that swept him back to power.

The settlers' major demands are for continued French rule and complete integration of Algeria into the French administrative and economic system.

Dulles' Plan Angers Chiang

Nationalist Minister Declines to Comment

TAIPEI Formosa (AP) — A Chinese Nationalist official said today Secretary of State Dulles has created misgivings that the United States might compromise Nationalist rights.

Dulles indicated at a news conference in Washington Tuesday that the United States would be willing to negotiate over the offshore islands if the Chinese Communists would stop shelling the Quemoy group. President Chiang Kai-shek and other Nationalist leaders have hotly rejected Dulles' suggestions that Nationalist forces on the islands be reduced if a cease-fire could be arranged.

The responsible Nationalist official, who declined to be identified, said Dulles had created misgivings that the United States would fail to honor its pledge. Washington promised not to prejudice Nationalist rights at the talks of the U.S. and Red Chinese ambassadors in Warsaw, he said.

"The American pledge to its ally, the Republic of China, carried a tremendous impact in the

250,000 Workers Leave Jobs

UAW Strike On At GM Plants

BULLETIN

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Vice President Louis Seaton said today, "The strike is on at General Motors." His comment came as thousands of GM's 250,000 United Auto Workers members were walking off the job at GM plants across the nation.

Seaton, tired after nearly 19 hours of bargaining since Wednesday morning, told newsmen, "We have no intention of adding anything to our offer in the final hour before the official strike deadline" —10 o'clock Detroit time (EST).

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. workers in three states jumped the gun on the United Auto Workers Union 10 a.m. strike deadline today and set up picket lines.

GM officials said the pickets appeared at the Delco radio plant at Kokomo, Ind.; Fisher Body No. 1 in Grand Rapids, Mich.; and Electro Motors in LaGrange, Ill.

The walkouts came while negotiators took a brief recess in their bargaining session amidst reports they still were far apart on a posible new contract.

Union leaders said there was no possibility of postponing the strike deadline and many issues are still unresolved despite negotiations that have been running almost continuously since Wednesday.

Chrysler and Ford have already settled on new three-year contracts with the UAW.

The UAW has some 250,000 members at GM. Their walkout would be joined by 20,000 members of the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) who also work for General Motors.

UAW President Walter Reuther said he didn't think a strike is inevitable, but "unless we get some work done, we'll have one. There is still time to do it."

The new UAW agreement with Chrysler was reached Wednesday.

The Chrysler agreement included a three-year pact, similar in most details to the agreement

U.S. Cool to Soviet Proposal

Confab With Reds Suggested In Note

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States was reported cool today to the Soviet proposal that foreign ministers — not ambassadors—meet to seek agreement on ending nuclear weapons tests. But the propoal was promised careful study.

The Soviet proposition was made Wednesday in notes to the U.S. and British embassies in Moscow. The three governments had agreed earlier to negotiate for a nuclear test suspension in Geneva Oct. 31 but the expectation had been that they would be represented by ambassadors. This country had designated James J. Wadsworth, one of its U. N. ambasadors, to head the U.S. delegation.

The Soviet Union dispatched the notes only a day after the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission reported detection of two new Soviet nuclear tests. These ended the much-publicized Soviet voluntary test suspension, and raised some question concerning the present Soviet attitude toward the Oct. 31 talks.

Both this country and Britain let it be known, however, that they were ready to go ahead if the Soviet Union halted testing by Oct. 31.

The Soviet Union professed a desire to proceed, but it was not immediately clear what effect her newest proposal might have.

A Moscow broadcast said a quick and universal end of nuclear testing is important to all mankind and added: "For this reason the Soviet government hopes that the parties to the conference will ben every effort to come to trms on, and sign, an appropriate agreement on the earlier possible date."

The Soviet move is expected to be discussed with Britain before a final decision is made on acceptance or rejection. This may take a week or so.

The initial reaction of some U.S. officials was that much detailed work remains to be done before a test ban can be agreed upon, and this work could better be carried on by special ambassadors than by foreign ministers.

Violence Closes Kentucky School

Racial Incident Suspends Classes

By The Associated Press

A Kentucky school was closed following an outbreak of violence while authorities in Arkansas and Virginia worked on new maneuvers designed to reopen schools that shut down in the face of orders to integrate.

Boone Hall, principal of Wheelwright, Ky., High School, planned to meet with parents and officials to decide what to do about the first racial incident since mixed classes began at the school three years ago.

Police broke up a demonstration by white pupils in which rocks were thrown and some windows were broken Wednesday. Hall said it was an out-growth of a fight between a white girl and a Negro girl in a restaurant the day before.

Suspended Indefinitely

Classes were suspended indefinitely after the brief burst of violence. Five Negro girls were among the 650 pupils enrolled at the school but had been sent home before the rock-throwing incident.

In Washington President Eisenhower urged obedience of U.S. Supreme Court rulings.

"It is incumbent upon all Americans . . . to recognize their duty of complying with the rulings of the highest court in the land," he told his news conference. "Any other course . . . would be fraught with grave consequences to our nation. . . "

The Little Rock Private School Corp., however, announced plans for a segregated high school educational system using private resources in an effort to place the schools beyond the reach of federal courts.

Clinic Serves Community Needs

By HARRY SAVAGE

The Central Clinic and Hospital stands ready to provide general hospital care to residents of Salem 24 hours a day. During the past year almost 450 babies were born in the hospital and 2,300 patients were admitted for care.

In addition, 6,000 people were provided service as out-patients in the X-ray, laboratory and emergency departments of the hospital.

The red brick hospital at the corner of Broadway and Second Sts. has more than doubled in size since its opening in 1921. From a modest beginning of 20 beds and six bassinets, the Clinic has grown to its present size of 57 beds and 12 bassinets.

THE CENTRAL CLINIC also operates a school for training medical technologists in affiliation with Mount Union College. The number of students enrolled is limited to provide the maximum supervision and instruction. To date, one student has been graduated and one is currently enrolled.

A vocational training program for future nurses is run by the Clinic, in cooperation with the Lectonia Public Schools. In this training program, high school girls receive basic training in nursng techniques as a prelude to their enrollment in a school for graduate or practical nurses.

X-RAY EQUIPMENT similar to that used in the mobile X-ray units was recently installed to take chest survey films. All adult patients are X-rayed on admission and the equipment is also used for X-raying selected groups in the community, such as teachers and food handlers. The Clinic's X-ray equipment is available to employers throughout the community for such services as pre-employment chest X-rays.

Despite the continued increases in costs, the Central Clinic and Hospital has kept total charges to patients as low as any hospital in northeastern Ohio. Like other hospitals throughout the country, however, there are many services

15-Year-Old Divorcee Choked To Death by Kentucky Youth

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Nineteen-year-old Gerald R. (Jerry) Kuhn, high school football reservist and onetime Kentucky Reformatory inmate, was free on bond today on a voluntary manslaughter charge in the death of Carol Lyons, 15-year-old divorcee.

A warrant signed by detective chief Albert Seiter charged Kuhn with "striking" the girl "about the face and choking her so as to cause her death."

Kuhn, who police said, carried the girl into her home early Wednesday morning after a protracted round of stops at bars here and in nearby Cincinnati, appeared voluntarily at police headquarters after an eight-hour stakeout of his home. He was accompanied by his attorney, Daniel J. Goodenough and refused to answer any questions.

The girl was unconscious when Kuhn placed her on a couch in her home, Seiter said. Efforts to revive her failed.

An autopsy disclosed, coroner Dr. E. L. Smith reported, that death resulted from "some respiratory block in the neck region." Seiter said the girl also bore bruises on her wrists and ankles as if she had been tied with a rope. These the youth refused to explain, nor would he give any reason for deep scratches on his face and forehead, Seiter reported. his parents since December 1956

Kuhn had been under parole to his parents since December 1956 when he was released after serving a term in a Kentucky reformatory on charges of grand larceny and possessing stolen property. Lt. R. E. Kampsen said the Lyons girl was the subject of a missing persons report last December.

The girl married Harold McCarthy in Lawrenceburg, Ind., last November 30—she was 14 at the time—and was divorced here seven months later, on June 3, court records showed.

Competition, Exports Discussed by Steel Leaders

CLEVELAND (AP) — Foreign competition and the business climate at home were topics for discussion by four steel company executives Wednesday.

At a meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute Wednesday night A. S. Glossbrenner, president of Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., said:

"We are at war with the Soviet Union—economic war. They mean business. They intend to win it. The steel industry of our two countries is one of the major fronts of this economic war."

Earlier, Max D. Howell, executive vice president of the institute, said Russian heavy steel products were beginning to appear on the world market.

The Soviet steel industry, he said, "appears to have expanded more rapidly than the consumer fabrication capacity has been permitted to develop by the government. This may well result in an increased volume of some products appearing in world markets."

Competing with foreign steel makers will necessitate greater productivity in United States' mills, said R. R. Snow, assistant vice preident of U. S. Steel Corp.'s American Steel and Wire Division.

"We are no longer competing with slow foreign mills," he declared, "They have mills as modern as ours."

The steel industry in this country was the topic of Thomas F. Patton, president of Republic Steel Corp., who spoke to the Canton Chamber of Commerce.

"Unless the people of an area have the common sense to provide a favorable climate for business," he said, those areas will not be conidered when industries are looking for places to build.

On the business outlook, Patton said:

"Barring an international catastrophe, nothing can defeat us but our own negligence in fulfilling our political duty, and in stopping the wage-cost spiral. Inflation is a one way road to nowhere, and we have raced along it dangerously far, almost to the point of no return. Let's stop while we are able."

Open House Planned At Buckeye School

Buckeye School teachers will hold open house for parents to visit class rooms Oct. 27 at 7:30 p.m. The same evening, the Buckeye Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor a benefit project at the school.

Love, acceptance, security, protection, independence, faith, guidance and control were the requirements stressed by the speaker.

Superintendent E. S. Kerr spoke briefly on the increased school levy to be voted on at the November election.

Thomas Howett, presided at the business meeting. There were 86 in attendance. It was decided to purchase an electric duplicator for the school. The purchase will be made with proceeds from a PTA benefit project held last spring.

The organization also agreed to establish a piano fund, adding a specified amount each year from the PTA treasury.

2-Month-Old Child Dies on Long Trip

LAKEVIEW Ore. (AP) — Little Craig Williams died Wednesday after being separated three days from his parents on a long automobile trip across five states.

Death came, said a doctor, because the 2-month-old child failed to respond to treatment for a condition caused by premature birth.

But the doctor said that the frail, weak child also had been unable to withstand the effects of the long trip.

The trip began in Slick Rock, Colo., when the infants' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Williams, set off for Lakeview.

Making the trip with them in another car, was James Shelton, a bachelor.

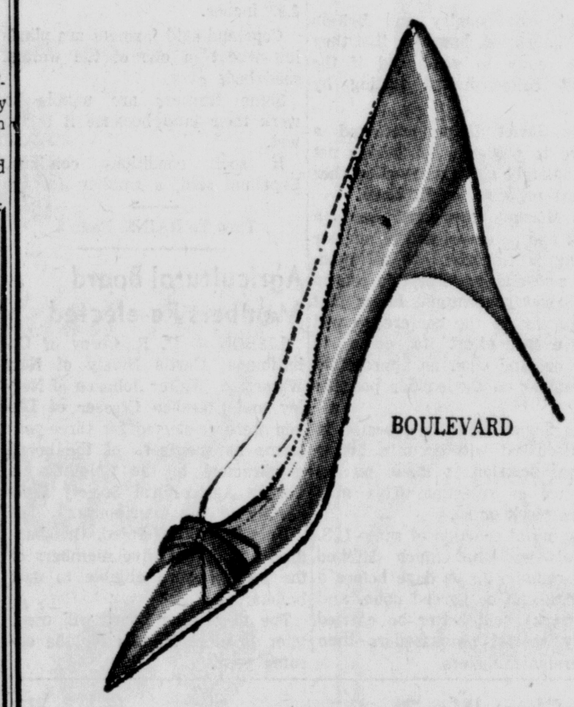

The baby was put in the Shelton car, because it had a better heater. The two vehicles later became separated during the trip.

The Williams car pushed on for Lakeview, thinking it was trailing Shelton. But Shelton for a time held back, thinking he was ahead. Finally, he drove on to Lakeview and found the child's parents. The baby was rushed into an incubator and was given special treatment—but it died a few hours later.

Williams came here to get a job as a miner.

Liquor Law Arrest One Of 17 Heard by Mayor

COLUMBIANA — Mayor Erwood Calvin's court docket lists the disposition of 17 recent cases, ranging from minor traffic offenses to a liquor law violation.

Joe Noland of RD 1, Leetonia, employe of the Veterans of Foreign Wars post here, was charged with illegal sale of liquor last weekend. He was fined $150 and costs. The charge was filed by state liquor agents.

Charges of issuing a check with intent to defraud, filed against Jacob C. Nelson Jr. of Youngstown, were dismissed when restitution was made in the amount of $33.34 the records show.

The 15 other hearings or bond forfeitures resulted from traffic offenses. Five arrests were by village police, including:

Robert C. Porter, 18, of RD 2, Columbiana, reckless operation, surrender of license for 15 days; Luther J. Mackey, 17, of Columbiana, improper muffler, surrender of license for 30 days; Robert D. Roshon, 20, of RD 2, Columbiana, reckless operation, $5 and costs.

Clyde D. Hiner, 22, of Columbiana, driving left of center, bond forfeiture of $15, and Joseph A. Cekuta, 23, of Girard, reckless operation, $5 and costs.

Judgment Before Comptometers

It is a pity that vice president Nixon's blasts against counting State Department mail on Quemoy, as a possible substitute for judgment, blew themselves out of the headlines almost before they were noticed.

The vice president could have blown up a storm if he had kept puffing. He had a theme basic in the philosophy of American government—a philosophy misrepresented grossly by Americans who never have tried to understand it.

Mr. Nixon, referring to a news report that the weight of the mail received by the State Departmnt on Quemoy was against the Eisenhower administraton's position, said:

"It is the responsibility of a leader to lead public opinion — not just to follow it. A leader must get all the facts before making a decision and then he must develop support for that decision among the people by making the facts known to them."

This is contrary to a more popular idea that a leader should find out first which way the wind is blowing, then flutter before it, like a feather. Millions of Americans think this fluttering is democracy and devote a large part of ther lives to the manufacture of wind machines guaranted to make their leadership go in any desired direction or be blown into oblivion at the next election.

How the mail is running should have no bearing on policy in the Far East. Policy must be determined by judgment, not a running total of mail received, pro and con. This is why it's such a pitty Vice President Nixon did not bear down on the idea that letters, telegrams and telephone calls should never be thought of as a substitute tor the intelligence of the people responsible for making decisions.

If the idea should be made popular that leadership must lead, not flutter, the United States could add an entirely new dimension to the grandeur and sale of popular government.

If the vice president had been able to leave a deep impression that he loathed public decision by popular pressure, he would have been in a class by himself as far as presidential chances in 1960 are concerned.

Men of Responsibility

The Southern Governors Conference this year made history two ways.

First, the integration issue was brought out into the open and debatted. Second, no agreement was reached on a resolution expressing the group's views on the subject.

So loud and overbearing have been the politico - proponents of "massive resistance at any cost" as they went about feeding the fires of hate and disorder that it began to seem there was no other tune in Dixie.

The governors conference was a reminder, however, that there are responsible leaders in the South who still stand for the rule of law and intelligent citizenship. More encouraging yet is the realization that if such men hold high public office, they obviously do not stand alone, entirely apart from the electorate.

Perhaps the most credit for the meeting's success on this score belonge to Gov. LeRoy Collins of Florida, who, as chairman, abandoned the tradition of banality in his keynote speech to set the stage for open argument and opposing resolutions. He was backed up principally by Gov. Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia, who sided with him completely, and Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, who disagreed with his specific program for peaceable integration but took an equally forthright stand in favor of obeying the law of the land.

The position of these men and the more passive supporters among their colleagues transcends the narrow limits of regional chauvinism and recognizes the significance of the desegregation problem in the whole of American democracy. Gov. Collins specifically warned that the Faubus - Almond pattern of integration conflict could well mean national catastrophe if it continues.

Such men recognize that emotion - stirring half-truths may be an expedient way to win votes, but the dissention they sow will bear fruit long after the term of office is completed. They know that defiance of the law of the land strikes a blow, not for states rights, but for anarchy. They perceive the critical effect of closing public schools on the future of this nation in an age when intelligence and skill may well determine whether it survives or not. They recoil at the grist the Faubuses and Almonds feed into the Communist propaganda mill.

The forces of law and order, reason and responsibility do exist in the South. It is indeed encouraging to be reminded that they have not ben completely silenced by the self-seeking antagonists.

Blessing From Heaven

Green thumbed residents of Ohio who have been "snowed" by this year's rain can take some consolation, if not compensation, from the report that even the experts have been unable to cope with the soggy garden and lawn problem.

One specialist in lawns at the Wooster Agricultural Experiment Station said his chief headache was keeping the grass mowed, a famliar moan to weary homeowners in this area. But other frustrations also hounded him and his colleagues: Rain-nourished crabgrass defied chemical poisons, and grubs, moles and earthworms had a field day.

The British, however, famed for turning adversity to advantage, perhaps deserve the year's top merit badge for salvaging something from a deluged growing year. Even in that normally wet country it has rained so much this season that natives are calling it the drippies summer in 30 years.

Consequently, the Sheffield Gardners Asn. canceled its annual flower show and instructed each member to exhibit "one specimen weed, potted up." First prize went to a beautiful, luxuriant growth unhampered by downpour and flood.

No one knew just what it was but all were certain it was a weed: It was the only thing worth potting in the whole muddy garden.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Lotteries and off-track betting on horses are being proposed in various American cities in a desperate fight to ease municipal debt problems and individual taxes. In New York a citizens' committee will study city-run horse parlors. We named our own committee. Transcript of opening session follows:

Chairman: Gentleman, two members are absent. Itl's too bad. I played 'em to show.

Secretary: I shall record them as late scratches.

Chairman: This is a very serious issue and I hope we are all in form. The big question is whether we should have trained for a sprint or for distance.

A member: This could even develop into a jumping event. I have been practicing over the hurdles since reading the views of Gov. Harriman and Nelson Rockefeller.

Chairman: Will Mr. Blank please put down that racing sheet and pay attention?

Mr. Blank: I am not reading it. I carry it together with an anti-off-track betting editorial in order to show my neutrality.

Chairman: Not a bad idea. Let us remember that the mayor has sent us to the post under heavy responsibility to the community.

A Member: Can we win at the weights? I have never been on a committee like this before and ask a five-pound apprentice allowance.

Third Member: I've been on three previous off-track betting committees.

Chairman: Yes, but you finished as an "also-ran."

First Member: Just what is the mayor's position?

Chairman: He's a rail runner but he seems to want the far outside this time. Personally I have a hunch off-track betting will win.

Third Member: What odds are you quoting?

Chairman (interrupted by two telegrams): Gentlemen, I have two wires from our two committemen who didn't show up.

First Member: What happened?

Chairman: One broke down in stretch. The other came up lame.

International Yacht race cocktail: One drink and you can't see anything. Then there's the sceptre flip: One sip and you're out of the picture.

A UNION AND AN AIRLINE have been in a hassle over whether airline women office workers and hostesses can be too glamorous. An office chick was dropped because of platinum blonde hair, her tight skirts, professional make-up, etc. The union forced reinstatement

There's no doubt an extra glamorous babe can slow up office efficiency, but she can also give the joint a lift. (And in the airline busines isn't a lift all important?)

There are platinum blondes who can stymie concentration on solid routines. But customers, especially males, are in no platinum blonde revolt. As for hosteses, yes and no. Beauty can be a peril. Surely "Fasten your belts" is not as effective from a Helen of Troy as from a Lizzie Borden.

Freedom's Front Line---The Nearest Newsstand

Political Approaches

By RAYMOND MOLEY

An editorial has appeared in at least one of a very influential chain of newspapers which is so likely to mislead businessmen and others that it deserves a reply. It speaks of certain large corporations which have recently recommended that their employes participate in politics. It draws an analogy between using stockholders' money for this and the use of dues money by unions for their activity. It speaks of "making a right out of two wrongs."

Not only does this editorial misinterpret, perhaps through ignorance, what the corporations have done recently, but the analogy it seeks to draw between current union activity and that of the businessmen in question is not a true one.

In the first place, as far as I know of what corporations have done — and my information on this is quite ample — they have not put their companies into political activity.

THEY HAVE SAID, in public statements and in communications to their employes, that it is the duty and responsibility of employes to participate in political affairs on their own. This is good advice for every man and woman in America.

One of the shames of the times is the refusal of Americans to do much about choosing their public officials. Indeed, millions do not trouble even to vote.

No corporation that I have heard of has actually used corporation funds directly in behalf of a political candidate or party. They obey the old law of 1907 on that point.

The Taft-Hartley Act, which puts the same prohibition on labor unions, however, is openly flouted. It should be noted that these laws apply only to federal primaries and elections.

The only attempt by the present administration through its attorney general to enforce the Taft-Hartley Act on this subject fizzled out. In the trial of the case, which had to do with the UAW, the judge gave what seemed to me inadequate instructions to the jury.

Members of the jury questioned later indicated that they did not know the law or the facts sufficiently to render an intelligent verdict.

THE ANALOGY between union members and stockholders is all wrong. Nobody is compelled to be a stockholder. He is at liberty at any moment to sell out if he is not satisfied with the way a corporation is using his money. But under a union shop, a union member who disagrees with the political position of his officers on an issue or a candidate has his livelihood at stake.

Theoretically, he might protest, or in some cases get back that part of his dues which is used in politics. But actually he doesn't dare.

Moreover, a great deal of the political activities of unions is counted by them as "education."

In the UAW case it was openly admitted by the lawyer of the union that "one cannot draw a line between bargaining and politics."

A very good statement by W. L. White of what the unions are doing politics is in the October Reader's Digest.

In the hearings of the Gore subcommittee on the election of 1956, union representatives openly told what they thought they could do with the general funds of unions. They also invited corporations to do the same.

As far as I know, no corporation would dare to do the same things with stockholders' money.

Businessmen are scared enough already because of fear of the unions, and of their stockholders.

This bugaboo presented by the newspaper editorial is likely to deepen their fear and confirm their present neglect of a plain civic responsibility.

Travel Notes

By TRUMAN TWILL

At the rate superhighways are taking the place of ordinary roads that twisted and climbed over and around natural obstacles, it will be only a few years until millions of youngsters will be ignorant of the countryside that lies on either side of the main chute.

With this in mind, we turned off on what once was a famous highway for a glimpse of what used to be — and before five miles passed we saw it. A 60-mile detour went 30 miles up and 30 miles back to get around a block in progress that would be pushed over these days with one chug of a mechanized juggernaut on a superhighway.

The scenery on the detour was beautiful. The detour, itself, was a well kept highway. But that was our glimpse of what used to be, and it made exactly the same impression on the youngster of today that it made on the youngster of yesterday: There must be a better way to build highways.

Best buy on the go is the new motel with its good beds and gleaming bathroom, with front-door parking and convenient location. There usually is a restaurant handy.

This is the setup that hotels offer, except for front-door parking, and that makes all the difference. A traveler does not want to unload his car and reload it every 24 hours. If hotels could send up the old bus in the same elevator and store it in the next room, motels would have something to worry about.

Except for the occasional fool driver, who is rolling on borrowed time, motorists are becoming more considerate all the time, especially the professionals who drive the big trucks. In more than 1,600 miles, not a single accident was observed and only one overt act of inconsideration.

What was observed, on the other hand, was evidence of trouble with the cooling system of cars being operated on highspeed roads. Dozens were pulled up with their tongues hanging out and steam coming out of their ears. Overheated engines are a symptom of something wrong with the cooling systems of cars driven at sustained high speeds in high temperatures.

All direction signs on arterial highways eventually must be placed overhead to indicate at a quick glance which lane is the correct one for the next turn. Side signs are worthless, because they can be hidden by another vehicle at the instant when they need to be observed.

And would it be absurd to wonder if pilot drivers might make a living by steering tourists through the mazes and mysteries of cities that have not been able to erect expressways? If the captain of a ship needs a pilot to take him into and out of a familiar harbor, why shouldn't a traveler take on a pilot to steer him through a strange city?

The guide who steered us through the National Military Park at Gettysburg says interest in the Civil War is increasing and booming tourist trade to the five-mile-square area where the Confederacy broke its back by pushing its luck too far in 1863. The park now has 29 miles of roads and 2,390 markers. Upward of 172,000 men fought there, with 51,000 casualties. What did Gettysburg and the Civil War settle?

The "unfinished task," referred to by Abraham Lincoln in the Gettysburg Address, was "that these dead shall not have died in vain — that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom — and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

All the people, he meant. Not part of the people.

Misguiding Opinions

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Constitution Gives Congress Power Over Court

American public opinion has been unwittingly misled into believeing that the United States is risking war just to defend two little islands off the coast of Red China. The erroneous impression has been widely spread that, if America could only persuade our ally, the Nationalist government on Formosa, to surrender the islands of Quemoy and Matsu by negotiation with Red China, peace would come to the Far East. This is a fallacious viewpoint.

David Lawrence

The undisputed facts obtained from State Department sources here are as follows:

1. Red China would welcome but would not be content with the acquisition of Quemoy and Matsu and will never give up its demand for the surrender of Formosa itself.

2. Every one of a long series of broadcasts from Peiping has insisted that the Nationalist Chinese must get out of Formosa.

3. At no time, either in the informal negotiations at Geneva or at Warsaw, has Red China's ambassador hinted that the plan to capture Formosa would be abandoned.

ON THE CONTRARY, the demand has been and is that all Nationalist and American forces get out of Formosa and that it be evacuated in favor of the Red Chinese.

4. Both the Nationalist government of China and the American government will concede that the islands of Quemoy and Matsu have no strategic military value in and of themselves. If an invasion of mainland were undertaken, certainly it would not be by way of Quemoy or Matsu.

5. The United States never advised the Nationalists to send any large portion of their army to Quemoy and Matsu but the free Chinese have felt and still feel that the two islands are a symbol to their own people of the determination of the Nationalist government to regain someday control of the mainland. It's moral rather than a military factor. The collapse of a nation's spirit and moral can, of course, disintegrate any army overnight.

6. The two islands mean as much to the free Chinese today as Berlin means to the West Germans. Indeed, Berlin is still an "island" surrounded by Soviet military forces. To mention giving it up is to strike a blow at the morale of the free government of West Germany. On this point, one official in the State Department said to this writer:

"SINCE ALASKA now is a state in our union, supposing the Russians should demand that we give up our small island of Diomede, which is only 2½ miles away from a Soviet island in the Bering Straits, would the people of the United States sanction the giving up of territory flying the American flag just to satisfy a Communist demand? Well, that's the way the Nationalist Chinese feel about it, and I may add that they are just as devoted to their country as the people of Hungary or any other nation that has been the victim of Communist action."

But supposing the United States were able to prevail upon the Nationalists to agree to give up Matsu and Quemoy on the condition that the Communists would agree to a cease-fire in the Far East?

This is often suggested, but it is explained by officials here that this is an unrealistic question because the Communists do not have the lightest intention of agreeing to a cease-fire. For it would prevent them from capturing Formosa. From their viewpoint, they cannot recede either — it would be a blow to their own morale, too.

The whole situation has to be viewed realistically. The United States is standing up for freedom and against Communist tyranny.

If America reverses its policy and the Nationalist Army on Formosa crumbles and the military position of the Philippines, which are a few miles from Formosa, should be weakened, it would be a signal for the Red Chinese to resume the war in Korea and Indochina.

IMMEDIATELY the draft calls for American boys would have to be increased and possibly reservists called back to active duty. The United States would then have to reveret to her original position of defending the free Chinese and boltering the free governments of southeast Asia with troops and supplies.

So President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles think it is far better to stick resolutely to our allies in the Far East and demonstrate now that we are ready to defend them and ourselves in the area — when we have nearly one million troops of the free nations there under arms — than to try at some future date to really demoralized armies for the inevitable struggle. It's Formosa and its army, South Korea and its army, South Vietnam and its army, the Philippines and its army, and the confidence of Japan that the United States wants to maintain intact lest American boys have to be called to service to re-enforce our fleet, our air force and our ground divisions in the Far East today.

To appease now means war eventually, anyhow. If the Communists, however, become convinced that the United States government is in earnest, and if petty politicians and pacifists, here and in Britain, will stop muddying the waters and giving the impression that the American and British people are eager for surrender and peace at any price, there fill be no war—small or big.

Food Prices

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—If the government wants to start an argument with the American housewife and the family breadwinner all it has to do is tell them the cost of living has gone down.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics says this has just happened to its consumer price index for the first time in two years.

It says the drop came in the price of foods, which carry 30 per cent of the weight of the index.

A housewife has no trouble telling her husband of a number of foods whose prices haven't gone down at all, and some whose prices have just gone up.

And perhaps he belongs to a union whose wage contract has an escalator clause giving him a raise if the bureau had said the index had gone up. Often he can't see that it's any easier making ends meet now than a couple of months back. It may even seem harder.

The index, in fact, shows rises in the costs of transportation, housing, medical care and recreation.

The bureau is aware of the misunderstanding that arises from over emphasizing the importance or conclusiveness of its index.

Its food component, for example, consists of 80 items, while the average supermarket is said to offer 6,000 food item.

The bureau also knows that a family's tastes and shopping ability can determine to quite an extent how much its food bill goes up or down.

The index as revised in 1953 includes 20 things other than food. It is the bureau's best guess as to what the average family of wage earners and clerical worker in U.S. cities pay for in the way of goods and services.

The families covered represent about 40 per cent of the population—taking in neither those making more than $10,000 a year nor those in the lowest brackets, and leaving out farm families or those in small cities and towns.

Each item is weighted both as to the amount purchased and the frequency of purchase, trying to strike a balance for the family budget over a period of time. That is why the 80 food items carry such a big weight (30 per cent) and why a rise in public transit fares weighs more than a hike in the price of autos.

In the last two years the cost of living index has gone up 6 per cent and bout two thirds oaf the rise has been due to the rising cost of services nd the increased cost of eating.

New Drugs Helpful to Epilepsy

It is a great shock to parents who learn that they have a child whose fits or convulsions are the results of epilepsy. However when this does occur, the parents should school themselves to take the situation calmly and not by any means despair of the situation.

Epilepsy is a disorder of the brain. In reply to Mrs. J. S. who asks what is meant by grand mal convulsions, I can say that this is the severest type of epilepsy. When it occurs, typical convulsions exist and there is loss of consciousness.

THE OTHER MAIN type of epilepsy is known as petit mal. Here there are only brief episodes of loss of consciousness without accompanying convulsions.

Petit mal is less serious and easier to treat effectively, though even those who have grand mal attacks can generally be greatly helped.

Just before an attack of grand mal begins there is usually a peculiar sensation in some part of the body. This is known as an aura.

The exact sensation varies, but an "uneasy" feeling in the stomach area is one of the most common. Those who have epileptic attacks learn to recognize this aura and to know that an attack is on the way.

AS A MAJOR attack starts ,th patient may give a loud scream or yell, which is called an epileptic cry. At this time the head is usually drawn back or to one side, the jaws are fixed, the hands clenched and the legs extended straight out.

This is quickly followed by muscular contractions, noisy breathing and a brick-red colored face. During all this period from the epileptic cry on, the patient is unconscious.

After an attack the patent re covers consciousness without recollection of what has happened. Sometimes attacks come only at night so that it is possible for a person to have been epileptic for years without anyone knowing it.

-:-

TODAY THERE are methods for testing the electrical waves of the brain. Known as electroencephalography, these tests have shown that the brain waves of someone with epilepsy are different from those of a normal person.

This method of testing has already proved to be of great help in finding out which people are most likely to develop epilepsy, in determining the severity of the disease, and in helping to decide what treatment is best for the particular patient.

New drugs for the treatment of epilepsy have been made available in recent years. Furthermore, the understanding of the disease has been improved and most doctors do not take as dim an outlook about the future for epileptic patients as they did in the past.

The light produced by fireflies is without any heat or loss of energy, an accomplishment man has not been able to achieve.

Eisenhower, Nixon Map Plans For Election of GOP Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon have different ideas on how to elect a Republican Congress.

Eisenhower told his news conference Wednesday if all the registered Republicans went out to vote there would be no trouble about electing GOP candidates. He mentioned Maine, a normally Republican state.

Nixon is campaigning in California, where party registrations give the Democrats a 7-5 advantage. He has been calling on Democrats to forget party lines and support Republicans in order to continue what he calls the best six years in the country's history.

Political strategists said Nixon' tactics of trying to enlist Democratic support appear more realistic in view of party registration strength in California and several other vital states.

Regstered Democrats outnumbered Republicans by about 900,000 in California in 1956 and have been topping Republicans 5-1 in new registrations since then.

Registrations are seldom a deciding factor in elections, as Californians proved by rolling up a 500,000 margin for Eisenhower two years ago.

In last month's Maine election, which Eisenhower cited as a specific example, Democratic Gov. Edmund S. Muskie polled 172,704 votes to 111,522 collected by GOP Sen. Frederick G. Payne in the senatorial race.

Since 1956 figures showed 250,734 Republicans and 103,419 Democrats, the supposition was that a great many Republicans who went to the polls in Maine didn't vote that party's ticket when they got there.

If the balloting trend should follow registration lines in next month's elections, Republicans might be in trouble in states such as New York, Arizona, Delaware, New Mexico, Nevada, Maryland and West Virginia. All of these have Senate seats at stake and in all of them Democratic registration has outstripped that of the Republicans.

In the once-Republican stronghold of Pennylvania where a new senator will be elected, Democrats have shown a recent upsurge. The GOP led by about 400,000 registration in the state in 1956 but an estimated 60 per cent of new registrants this year listed their party as Democratic.

Nursing School Here Receives Accreditation

The Hannah E. Mullins School of Practical Nursing has been granted full accreditation by the State Board of Nursing Education and Nurse Registration, according to announcement made by Mrs. Marie G. Durand, school director.

The school is operated by the Salem City Hospital Association

The licensed practical nurse is the most recently recognized member of the hospital nursing team, Mrs. Durand stated. Today practical nurses assume responsibility for much of the direct patient care, and the registered nurse devotes more of her time to nursing administration and supervision, she continued.

The schooling for practical nurses is a one-year course. The first four months are devoted to academic class room work and the last eight months are spent in the hospital learning the fundamentals of patient care.

Students are trained in the bedside care of obstetrical, medical, surgical and pediatric patients. The local school has an affiliation with Akron Children's Hospital for pediatric nursing experience for the students, since there is not a sufficient number of children admitted to City Hospital to provide the necessary training. Students spend six weeks at the Akron hospital to complete school requirements.

The first class was admitted Nov. 11, 1957 and will be graduated Nov. 7. There are 11 students in this class who will be eligible to take the State Nursing Board examination following graduation.

Classes are enrolled every eight months. A class of 12 students was enrolled in the school in July. The next class will be admitted in March, 1959.

Mrs. Durand said, "the entrance requirements for our school are high and an excellent training program is provided. We believe that these factors account for the unprecedented action of the State Board in granting our school full accreditation within the first year of operation."

The school is operated by the hospital board of trustees through an advisory committee which was appointed by South Metzger, board president.

The 27-member committee gives wide representation to this community and to the entire area served by the hospital. Atty. J. O. Beck of Lisbon is chairman of the advisory committee.

rendered for which the recipients do not, or are not able to pay. This amounts to almost $25,000 a year.

Charges to patients for services provide only necessary operating funds, and community funds together, with other voluntary contributions, provide the capital funds to purchase new and replacement equipment. In this way the most modern diagnostic and treatment facilities are maintained. In 1958 the Clinic received an allotment of $4,000 from the Salem Community Fund. This allocation will be duplicated for the coming year.

THE CENTRAL CLINIC was founded as a stock corporation in one of Salem's first public school buildings in 1921. Its beginning was hastened by the typhoid epidemic of 1920. During the epidemic the building was first used as a hospital to care for the typhoid fever victims.

Throughout the years the hospital has pursued a course of steady growth and improvement. In 1936 the original stock corporation was dissolved and the hospital was reorganized as a voluntary, non-profit community hospital, at which time it became a participating agency in the Community Fund.

Pilot Light on Tank May Have Set Blaze

Fire Chief Clarence W. Wright said today that Sunday night's fire at the Amoco Service Station just east of the city limits on Rt. 14, might have been caused by a hot water tank pilot light igniting gas fumes originating from the fuel line of a car under repair at the time.

The blaze caused damages estimated at $8,000 to the building, stock and equipment. The structure is covered by insurance, and the stock and equipment partially covered, Chief Wright said.

Also damaged was a sports car owned by Donald Rambler of Pittsburgh and undergoing repairs when the blaze broke out. The car was not insured, the chief said.

Firemen were summoned at 10:39 p.m. to the station which is managed by John Donnelly of RD 3, Salem and owned by a Youngstown man.

UAW

Ford and the UAW worked out Sept. 17 after a seven-hour strike affecting 98,000 Ford workers. Chrysler has 75,000 UAW members.

Both GM and the UAW conceded that any General Motors settlement would follow the broad pattern of the Chrysler-Ford pacts but two major problems complicated the GM bargaining picture.

Wiping Out Inequities

One of these was union insistence on wiping out what it termed inequities in wage scales paid GM workers in adjoining plants for doing an identical job. Reuther said, for example, that some comparable jobs in GM plants in three adjacent Michigan cities — Bay City, Saginaw and Flint — have a wage spread of 10 cents hourly. GM denied there was such a gap.

The other was the UAW's determination that any new national GM agreement would not tie the hands of its members in handling local grievances at GM's 130 plants across the nation.

The Chrysler settlement gives its workers about 24 to 30 cents an hour additional in the next three years in their present hourly base pay of $2.33. Chrysler says it has fewer skilled workers classifications than GM, whose hourly pay is $2.62 or Ford which pays $2.52.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Victor Riesel

Here we are within 90 days of another revolution — the "jet revplution." There will be more noise made over the new commercial passenger jets now about to criss-cross the land than the jets will make over our big towns. That noise will spring from an uncivil war on the industrial front as unions try to wrestle with and understand the amazing new streamlined problems.

Watch this battle — for as civil jet flying goes, so goes much of American industry.

As the jets hurtle by, thousands of jobs will vaporize all along the line, from the point where the jet is just a gleam in some engineer's eye to the finished craft.

I'm told this by Transport Workers Union chief Mike Quill, with whom I've been talking for weeks. Quill's union has contracts with 19 airlines, 12 airline service companies and one helicopter outfit. He'll be negotiating new contracts with them in the next few weeks.

QUILL, READING from some documents, said that there must now be a new way of measuring pay — by space and time methods — to make up for the fact that there will be so much less work on, in and around jets.

For example, there may be fewer skilled repair men needed because in the cockpit alon there are 117 fewer gaugs, gadgets and controls than in the piston engine planes now heading for the tin boneyard.

This means fewer manufacturing jobs, fewer installation jobs—and, therefore, fewer inspection and maintenace jobs at the airports where Quill has so many members.

Quill's technicians then pointed to the jet aircraft itself. There's virtually no vibration. Therefore, the plane requires far less inspection and repair.

Safety is maintained more easily with longer stretches between overhauling, because the plane body isn't shaken.

Bolts, nuts, the shell of the aircraft itself, seats, galleys and instruments are not shaken loose as quickly over a period of time. Fewer inspections mean smaller ground crews.

The Transport Workers Union experts also point to the decreasing need for over hauling jet engines. They stay in good shape longer than the prop piston motor so many of us have watched so intently all these years as they fly by.

QUILL SAID the propeller motor, which grew old fashioned even as we watched, needed to be overhauled about twice as often as the jet motor. That meant twice as much work, or twice as many jobs.

Now, with even some jets growing outmoded almost as fast as they come off the line, there is less and less need for inspection and maintenance as the new ones are perfected.

For example, not too long ago the U.S. Army used to change or overhaul its jet engines every 250 hours. Now these engines can go six tims longer without being rolled into the workshop.

The Army today reviews its jets every 1200 hours. So it will soon be with commercial jet planes.

The aerial expresses now are so safe the insurance companies are rating premium payments for pilots on a par with house painters.

And the industry points out that there would be no sense in flashing through the air only to be bogged down at airports.

SO VAST NEW systems of electronic reservations and baggage handling systems are being developed at a cost of 50 million dollars. This must inevitably cut down ground staffs.

And, says Quill, what about our flying stewards and stewardesses? These new planes will go twice as fast and carry twice as many passengers as the old planes, Quill says. That's twice as much work in half the time.

That's why other big unions have their eyes on these jet-propelled problems. The machinists, for example, watched 100,000 railway maintnance men dwindle to less than 60,000 as Diesels replaced locomotives and electric trains replaced some Diesels.

But Quill really is the first to face the "revolution." In his coming negotiations he'll ask for a 30-hour week, a guaranteed annual wage.

And anyway you dress it up, he'll ask for a tough profit-sharing contract. Not in those precise words. But in a drive to cut into whatever profits and benefits the airlines reap from the "jet revolution."

Salem Quakers Home For Season, Play Brookfield Friday

Six Home Games To Finish Year

Locals Seeking Third Consecutive Victory

Salem High football fans need travel no more. Beginning this Friday night at Reilly Stadium against the Brookfield Warriors, the Quakers will be at home for the remainder of the season engaging six foes along the way.

All games will be on Friday night except the Wellsville tilt Oct. 16 which is on a Thursday.

The Red and Black will be on the lookout for two key men in the Brookfield attack tomorr o w evening. They are quarterback Bud Bremick and halfback Ed Ulmer.

Both boys played last year in Salem's 19-7 win that snapped the Warrior's 28-game winning string.

Ulmer has scored 20 points in each of the last two games and has totaled 46 in the three games Brookfield has played.

Brookfield has run most of the time in their first trio of tilts but still have a very capable passer in Bremick.

Brookfield lost their first game to Baldwin, Pa. 26-25 but have come on to whip Sharpsville, Pa. 20-6 and Ashtabula St. Johns 38-6.

Dick Raidel, who is in his first year at Brookfield, will field a team that averages 177 on the line and 156 in the backfield.

The Warriors had 16 returning lettermen this season from last year's team including six regulars.

Brookfield's six regulars fr o m 1957 are end Rich Nagy, tackle Bud Kurtz, guards Tony Sobotka and Steve Sop and backs Bud Bremick and Ed Ulmer.

Ben Gearo, the starting ri g h t halfback, was not a regular last year but did earn a monogram.

Kurtz was shifted to tackle this year from end.

It's a tossup who the starter will be at two positions for Salem.

They include Lou Slaby or Powell Schmauch at fullback and Bill Hone or Tony Petrucci at right end.

Ned Chappell, who has missed every game so far, is rounding into shape rapidly and although he isn't expected to play Friday, he could be in the lineup next week against Wooster.

The kickoff for tomorrow's encounter is slated for 8 p.m.

KREMBLAS REPLACED — Knocked out of action temporarily with a shoulder separation, Frank Kremblas, right, Ohio State football star, relinquishes his quarterback position to inexperienced Jerry Fields, left. The injury was predicted as a serious blow to Ohio State's gridiron hopes this season.

HEADS-UP PLAY — Seemingly carrying his head in his hands, Joe Scudero of the Washington Redskins is off and away with an intercepted pass.

Albuquerque N.M. — Ray Terrazas, 145, El Paso, outpointed Joe Louis Murphy 146, Albuquerque 10.

Buckeyes, Harvard Fear Foes' Kicking Attacks

By The Associated Press

The kick, and its first cousin, the punt, often a dull bit of routine to some football fans, get more than their share of attention these days around the college football practice fields.

For the fan who likes to see the running-passing phase of the game, a man who has to kick a ball is looked on as somewhat of a kill joy.

Not so to Ohio State's Woody Hayes, or Harvard's John Vovicsin.

Hayes, whose Buckeyes play Washington this week, feels his team must match the Huskies kicking game if they are to win. Washington currently is No. 6 in the country in punting.

Jim Owen's team, in upsetting Minnesota 24-21 last week, punted six times for a 44.3 yard average. In two games it has 10 punts for 42.3 average.

Ohio State managed four for 34 yards against Southern Methodist last week. Woody also has his boys looking to the field goal, a weapon he used successfully in winning the Rose Bowl 17-14 this year, and one these same Huskies used to beat Minnesota.

Yovicsin saw his Harvard team stunned with a 6-3 loss to unheralded Buffalo on a blocked kick. His three punters are getting plenty of time working under pressure from linemen this week in prepping for the Cornell game Saturday.

Notre Dame, which must face SMU Saturday, practiced kickoff and punt returns. The Mustangs rank No. 5 in punting, with 2-for-42.5 yards against Ohio State.

A pair of Southwest Conference teams, Texas A&M and Arkansas, drilled in kicking, with both looking for initial victories Saturday after two consecutive losses.

Just who will do the punting for Penn is the problem today. The Quakers face Dartmouth Saturday with two halfbacks who took care of the chore last week against Penn State on the shelf.

Jack McTigue, Brown halfback who missed the Columbia opener because of a knee injury, tested it in a running and kicking drill and found no hitches.

The Davidson Wildcats worked at their kicking game in preparation for Saturday night's game against the Citadel. The Cadets did likewise in their practice session.

SETS NEW RECORD

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Steamin' Demon set a new world's trotting record Wednesday at the Lexington track when he turned in a time trial of 2:4-5. The time also set a combined record for double-gaited stallions. The trotting time plus a 1:58 3-5 pace set last year gives him a record combind time of 3:59 1-5.

Eggplant is said to have originated in Burma or India.

Series Briefs

Because Warren Spahn batted .333 during the regular season, his two hits in Wednesdays' game came as no particular surprise. But they actually were Spahn's first World Series safeties. He went hitless in four tries in the 1943 classic against Cleveland and had another 0-for-4 against the Yanks last year.

Spahn's extra-inning pitching chore was his first since beating the Yankees 7-5 in the fourth game of the 1957 series. Warren did not go more than nine in any of his 36 starts the past season

Someone told Yankee Manager Casey Stengel: "I see where you signed your contract for '59 already."

Said Casey: "Yeah, I read that in the papers, too. But darned if I can remember doin' it."

Wednesday's was the first extra-inning opening series game since 1954 when Dusty Rhodes walloped a three-run homer in the 10th to enable the New York Giants to beat Cleveland, 5-2.

The Yankees will have a better groomed Mickey Mantle on the field today. The Mick didn't shave before Wednesday game and said he would continue unshaven if he had a good day. He was 0-for-3.

With a double and a single in four trips, Yogi Berra appears well on his way toward another good series. In his last four, Yogi has hit .429, .417, .360 and .329.

The crowd of 46,367was larger than any which saw the three series games in Milwaukee last year.

Yank's Yogi Berra Likes 'Bad Pitches'

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Batting practice is a time of fun and good-natured kidding — even at the World Seris.

Yogi Berra, popular New York Yankees catcher who is labeled as a notorious slugger of bad pitches, was having a little trouble Wednesday connecting w i t h practice pitches.

So Yogi quipped to the hurler, "Throw me a few bad pitches, will ya?"

Bruton's 10th-Inning Single Wins World Series Opener 4-3

Warren Spahn Picks Up Victory

Skowron, Bauer Homer for Yankees

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The New York Yankees were in a most unenviable position today as they awaited Lew Burdette and the Milwaukee Braves in the second game of the World Series.

Imagine being one down, their best pitcher, Whitey Ford, chased from the mound, and the fellow who vanquished them three times a year ago waiting in the wings?

That was the Yankees' position as they sought to even the series after Wednesday's 10-inning 4-3 Milwaukee triumph behind Warren Spahn in the opener.

Right-hander Bob Turley, who won 21 while losing only seven, was the scheduled Yankee pitcher. He started twice last year. He was routed the first time but came back to defeat the Braves 3-2 in the sixth game.

This year, Burdette won 14 of his last 17 decisions to wind up with a 20-10 record.

In Wednesday's game, the Braves tied the score 3-3 in the eighth and then won it in the 10th on Billy Bruton's single.

"I think we can beat 'em in five," Spahn said after the game. "In fact, it may even be four, if Lew beats Turley. And I think he will."

Actually, Ford was not the losing picher. Ryne Duren, the fireball relief pitcher, was charged with the defeat. After blowing his fast ball with spectacular success for 2 13 innings, during which he struck out five, the be spectacled right-hander lost some of his blinding speed. Singles by Joe Adcock, Del Crandall and Bruton produced the run which broke the 3-3 tie and gave Spahn his third World Series triumph against two defeats.

The 37-year-old southpaw yielded eight hits, walked four and struck out six.

Four players shared the Yankee hits. Yogi Berra, Hank Bauer, Gil McDougald and Bill Skowron collected two hits each. Skowron and Bauer homered, Hank hitting his with one on base, to account for all the Yanks' runs.

Milwaukee gathered 10 hits, six off Ford in seven innings. Spahn helped himself to two hits, one of them driving in a run. Crandall, with a single, and Wes Covington, with a sacrifice fly, drove in the other Milwaukee runs.

Managers Fred Haney of Milwaukee and Casey Stengel of New York promised to shuffle their lineups for the second game.

Haney said he would use Frank Torre at first base, in place of Joe Adcock, and Bruton in center, in place of Andy Pafko. Stengel was coy with the writers but hinted he would start Norm Siebern, a left-handed hitter, in left. That means Elston Howard may be either on the bench or in right field instead of Bauer, who is still nursing a sore wrist. Jerry Lumpe, a left-handed hitter, may replace the right-handed hitting Carey at third base.

Haney Calls Spahn's Pickoff Of Bauer 'Key Play of Game'

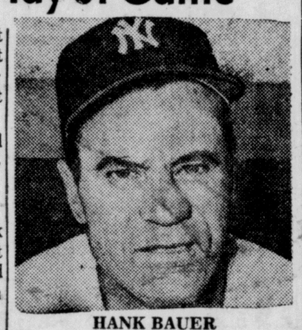

MILWAUKEE (AP) — What would have happened in the first World Series game if Hank Bauer hadn't been so eager in the first inning?

And what would have happened if Warren Spahn hadn't been waiting for just what Bauer did?

Bauer, first up for the New York Yankees, rapped a single to left and thereby broke his own World Series record by hitting safely in 15 consecutive games.

Maybe that made him a little too careless. At any event, he took too wide a lead off first and Spahn, on the mound for the Milwaukee Braves, whipped the ball to Joe Adcock at first as Bauer, hopelessly trapped, bolted for second. Adcock threw to Johnny Logan and Bauer was out.

HANK BAUER
'Just Caught Running'

Then up came Gil McDougald. He singled through short. If Bauer had played it safe, this would have put him on second. Spahn uncorked a wild pitch, which would have put Yankees on second and third with none out. Mickey Mantle popped out to Del Crandall, but Elston Howard flied to center—and if Bauer had been on third he could have scored on the fly ball.

That would have meant a Yankee run, which could have meant that instead of the game being tied at 3-3 in the ninth, the Yakees would have been on top 4-3. Instead it was the third out.

What did the principals say?

Bauer — "I was just caught running."

Spahn — "I felt beforehand the Yankees were going to try a running game and I believed I could cope with it."

Manager Fred Haney of the Braves—"Picking off Bauer was the key play of the game."

WILL MEET ORTIZ

LONDON (AP) — Promoter Jack Solomons announced today British champion Dave Charnley will meet Carlos Ortiz of New York in a lightweight fight at Haringay Arena Oct. 28.

WARREN SPAHN
Milwaukee Ace Gets First Yankee Scalp

Brave's Pitcher Wields Big Bat

Spahn Connects for 2 Singles In Game

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Warren Spahn, the pitcher, owes much of his success to Warren Spahn, the hitter.

The Milwaukee Braves' matchless left-hander proved it again in the World Series opener Wednesday when he shaded the New York Yankees 4-3 in 10 innings.

If Spahn weren't a reliable batsman, he never would have gone the distance.

Manager Fred Haney would have taken him out for a pinch hitter in the seventh with the Braves trailing 3-2 or again in the eighth with the score tied 3-3.

Haney said as much today. So did Spahn.

"I fas surprised when Fred let me hit with us trailing 3-2," Spahn said, "but that's the sort of confidence that helps a pitcher. Don't think it isn't. He stuck his neck way out in the open."

Spahn flied out as the leadoff batter in the seventh, but he contributed two singles to the Braves' attack and drove in their second run.

The 37-year-old ace won 22 games and batted .333 in 40 games during the regular campaign.

"I had a little trouble at the start," he said, "but I don't think I pitched the Yankees any different than I did last year, except that there is always something you might do different when you face the same club a third time.

"But a pitcher doesn't decide what he's going to throw. The other club tells him that.

"Wednesday, Del Crandall thought the Yankees weren't getting out front against the fast ball, so we used the fast ball. Then in the later innings I threw more change ups because of those shadows that covered the mound — the shadows gave me an edge."

BOOSTERS TO MEET

The Boosters Club will meet tonight at 7:30 on the second floor of the Memorial Building.

High school football coach Earle Bruce will talk on last week's game against Canton Timken and on tomorrow's game with Brookfield.

Movies will be shown of the Salem-Timken game.

Yank's Duren Is Impressive Despite Loss

MILWAUKEE (AP)—"I nearly could feel the breeze of his fast ball clear over in the dugout," said the Milwaukee Braves' Andy Pafko.

He was talking about New York Yankee rookie Ryne Duren.

Duren is about the fastest thing on the mound these days, and the Braves again probably will be seeing his lightning, or trying to see it, as the World Series progresses.

True, the strapping 29-year-old right-hander who winters in San Antonio, yielded the hit by Bill Bruton in the 10th inning Wednesday that gave the Braves a 4-3 opening victory over the Yankees.

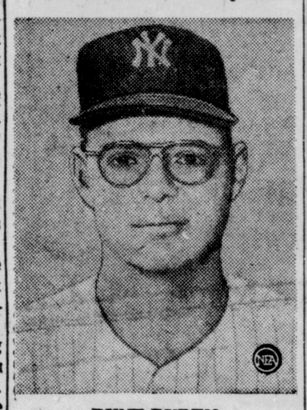

But until the product of Cazenovia, Wis., 130 miles west of Milwaukee, replaced Whitey Ford in the eighth inning, the game had not reached the crest of excitement.

After Hank Aaron's sharp double to the right field fence had signaled the end of Ford and brought on the bespectacled Duren, the game in many respects had mosid along in routine fashion.

Ryne, who struck out more than one batter for every inning of relief he pitched this season, fanned five Braves in his stint and left tongues wagging about his speed.

"Fastest pitcher I ever saw," said the veteran Pafko. "And I saw him from the bench. Bruton had replaced me."

"I was pleased with him," said Yankee Manager Casey Stengel. "He did the job he was sent in to do. With Mathews who had walked on third and Aaron on second, Duren goes in and fans Adcock. The Covington flies long to center to score Mathews and tie it. But it wasn't a hit — although a mighty important sacrifice fly — and Duren strikes out Crandall. He gets five strikeouts and you can't take that away from him."

Seven Newcomers on 1958-59 Squad

Cincinnati Royals Start 17-Game Exhibition Tour

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P) — Pro basketball fans in Cincinnati won't have any trouble recognizing the "new look" Royals later this month when the National Basketball Assn. season opens.

The rookie-rich Royals will have seven newcomers on their 10-man squad. But three first-year performers are from Ohio schools and the other four are so well known they'd be at home anywhere.

Veteran court observers feel the youthful Cincinnati team may find the early season going a bit bumpt. But as coach Bobby Wanzer puts it:

"We'll surprise a lot of people."

The Royals, stripped of their No. 1 scorer and best rebounder from last season's team, face a major overhaul job.

The most staggering blow was the loss of Maurice Stokes, the club's leading rebounder and one of the best players in the league.

Stokes is in Christ Hospital in Cincinnati suffering from encephalitis. He was stricken March 16, and although on the road to recovery, hasn't spoken since and is not expected to play again.

Several weeks ago, the Royals, looking to the future, dealt temperamental Clyde Lovellett to the champion St. Louis Hawks in return for rights to five rookies. The giant Kansas led Cincinnati scorers last year with 1,659 points, or 23 a game.

With Stokes and Lovellette gone, Wanzer admits his big problem is rebounding.

The diminutive Royal coach believes his team will have good shooting and good speed. "We hope to outrun our opponents."

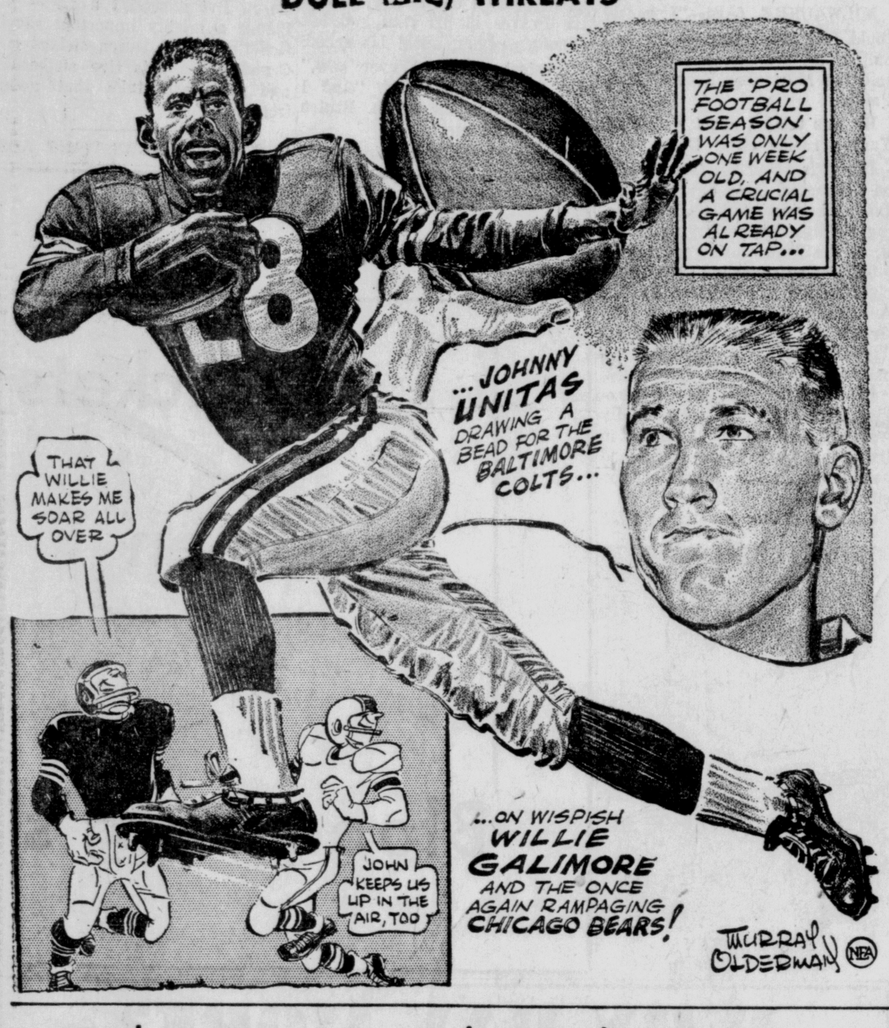

In the backcourt, Wanzer says "our combination will take a backseat to no one, except possibly Boston."

For guards, Wanzer has the great all-America, Sihugo Green, late of Dequesne and a returning serviceman; Kentucky's sharpshooting Vern Hatton; Arlen Bockhorn, a rugged performer from Dayton, and veteran Tom Marshall.

Up front, there are returnees Jack Twyman, one of the best percentage shooters in the NBA, and Dave Piontek. The rookie crop includes Indiana's Archie Dees, 5-8; Jack Parr, 6-9, from Kansas State; 6-8 Wayne Embry of Miami (Ohio), and Jim Palmer, 6-8, Dayton.

Another Kentucky ace, 6-3 John Crigler, and Larry Staverman, 6-7, from little-Villa Madonna, also are with the team but are not expected to stick.

The Royals opened two-a-day practice sessions at Lockbourne Air Force Base here Sept. 16. They break camp today and play Detroit tonight in Toledo, the start of a 17-game exhibition tour.

QUEEN CANDIDATES—One of these three Goshen High School seniors will be crowned 1958 Homecoming Queen Saturday night at Sebring when the Goshen Gophers meet McDonald. They are: l. to r. Janet Johnson, Neva Kitzmiller and Sandra Barnett.

GET TO DUREN

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Joe Adcock Del Crandall and Billy Bruton struck out the first time they faced relief pitcher Ryne Duren in the World Series opener Wednesday.

Turkey Chou Mein Has Chinese Flavor

The popularity of Chinese foods continues to grow, with chop suey and chow mein becoming as familiar to homemakers as many of the traditional American foods.

Turkey chow mein makes an advantage of both the popularity trend and of the plentiful supply of turkey to be found on the market.

Turkey Chow Mein

1 can bean sprouts, 2 tablespoons fat, 1 tablespoon finely diced onion, 1 cup sliced celery, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon ginger, dash pepper, 6-oz. can sliced broiled mushrooms, 2 cups coarsely cubed cooked turkey, ¾ cup turkey broth, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, ¼ cup cold water, 1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet, Chinese fried noodles.

Prepare beans for cooking, cutting diagonally into 1-inch lengths. Cook until barely tender in small amount of boiling salted water. Meanwhile, melt fat in 9-inch skillet with tight fitting cover. Add onon and celery and saute for 2 minutes.

Sprinkle with salt, ginger and pepper. Add contents of can of mushrooms, turkey and turkey broth. Cover and bring to boil. Lower heat and simmer, about 5 minutes.

Add cooked beans. Blend together cornstarch, cold water and kitchem bouquet. Gradually add to chow mein, stirring constantly and cook, until broth thickens and it comes to boil. Serve immediately over heated Chinese fried noodles.

Shrimp Aspic

2 chicken bouillon cubes, 2 tablespoons gelatin, ¼ cup cold water, 2 cups boiling water, 2 cups cooked shrimp, ½ cup diced cucumber, ¼ cup diced celery, ¼ cup diced black olives.

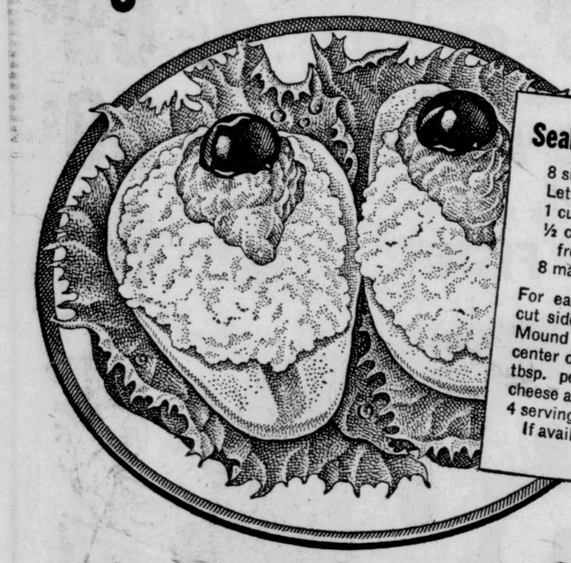

Soak the bouillon cubes and gelatin in cold water until soft. Add the boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Chop shrimp, reserving about 6 whole shrimp. Arrange the whole shrimp in a flowerlike design in the bottom of a mold and cover wth a layer of gelatin.

Chill until set. Meanwhile, cool remaining gelatin until thick but not set. Stir in the cucumber, celery, olives and the chopped shrimp.

Spoon the mixture into the mold. Chill until set. Unmold on lettuce leaves, garnish with thin slices of cucumber, and serve with a dressing of mayonnaise thinned with a little white wine. Makes 6 servings.

Cream butter. Gradually add sugar, creaming well. Blend in the eggs, apple butter, flour, salt and cheese. Turn into partially baked pie shell. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 45 to 50 minuts. Arrange baked pastry cut-outs over filling.

Fruit Salad

1 medium-sized honeydew melon, pared and cut in thin strips, 1 medium sized pineapple, pared, cored and diced, 3 cups diced peaches, 1½ cups green seedless grapes, 2 medium sized bananas, sliced, 2 medium sized oranges, pared and sectioned, 1-3 cup maraschino cherries (about 15 cherries), 1 cup mayonnaise, 2 tablespoons maraschino cherry juice, crisp lettuce.

Combine the melon, pineapple, peaches, grapes, bananas, oranges and cherries; toss lightly. Chill. Combine mayonnaise and cherry juice; mix well.

Arrange fruits on lettuce and serve with cherry dressing.

Currant Conserve

Ingredients: ¼ cup (⅛ pound) butter, 1 small clove garlic (crushed), 1 small loaf (12 inches long) French bread, 2 tablespoons grated Romano cheese.

Method: Cream butter and garlic. Cut loaf into 1-inch slices, but do not cut through bottom crust. Spread cut surfaces with garlic butter. Sprinkle top of loaf with grated cheese. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven until hot through—about 10 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

To help keep the yolks of hard-cooked eggs a good color, peel off the shells as soon as the eggs have finished cooking.

Horseradish is a favorite accompaniment, in England, to roast beef. Try it with cold roast beef sandwiches.

Peach Mincemeat Dumplings

Ingredients: 2 cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 2-3 cup shortening, 3 tablespoons (about) water, 6 tablespoons mincemeat (drained unless quite thick), 6 well-drained canned cling peach halves, milk.

Method: Sift flour and salt; add lemon rind and shortening. Cut in shortening with pastry blender just until well distributed. Sprinkle with and mix in water a tablespoon at a time; shape into a ball. Roll thin on prepared pastry cloth with floured stockinet - covered rolling pin. Cut into 6 squares, each 6 by 6 inches. Place a tablespoon of mincemeat in the center of each; arrange a peach half, cavity side down, over mincemeat.

Brush edges of pastry with milk and pinch together. Place on cookie sheet with pancake turner or wide spatula. Brush with milk. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven 25 minutes. Serve hot with the following sauce.

Sauce: In a 1-quart saucepan stir together 4 teaspoons cornstarch, 2 tablespoons light brown sugar, a dash of salt and ⅛ teaspoon mace; add gradually, stirring until smooth after each addition, 1¾ cups peach juice. (This amount is what you usually have from a No. 2½ can of peach halves.) Cook and stir constantly over moderate heat until slightly thickened and clear. Stir in 1 teaspoon lemon juice; serve warm or cool.

French Omelet

First the fruit, then the cereal and next the omelet. That's an ideal formula for an appetizing breakfast.

But for greatest breakfast pleasure, make your omelet with the artistry of French cooks. Fernande Garvins's new paper book, "The Art of French Cooking," tells how. Here's what this talented Frenchwoman says about them:

It is never advisable to make an omelet of more than 4 eggs. It is much easier to cook two 2-egg omelets than a 6-egg one. The eggs should be taken out of the refrigerator one hour before cooking. They are beaten lightly, just enough to break them and blend the whites and yolks together. This is done at the last minue. The one essential factor in the successful making of an omelet is the temperature of the butter. The eggs are not poured into the skillet until the butter bubbles and turns "noisette" (hazelnut) — that is, slightly brown. Then the eggs are turned into the skillet and the omelet is briskly made.

Basic Omelet (serves 2)

Four eggs, 1 tablespoon cream, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon butter.

Combine eggs, milk and salt in bowl. Beat gently. Place butter in skillet and heat until butter is very slightly browned. Add eggs and immediately stir them briskly with back of fork. When the eggs have thickened and there are no more liquid eggs in skillet, stop stirring and continue cooking for a few seconds, gently shaking the pan back and forth over the heat. Take skillet off fire and with a fork fold one-third of omelet over center. Then fold other third over first. Slide omelet onto heated serving dish.

PASTEURIZED SAFETY — Empty milk cartons can make excellent safety flares by stuffing pint and quart sizes inside a half-gallon container and lighting from the top. They will burn for about 30 minutes. Cpl. Harold J. Cardwell of the Ohio State Highway Patrol demonstrates in Cleveland.

Pears Good In Salad or Pie

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Our friends in the Pacific Northwest insist their Bartlett pears are about the finest. Now with autumn in the air, these delicious pears rate a place in family menus.

We like them just as is. But of course they are delicious also in salads and pies.

Autumn Fruit Salad
(Makes 4 servings)

Two Bartlett pears, ¼ cantaloupe, 1 banana, maraschino cherries, salad greens.

Wash, halve and core Bartlett pears. Arrange on crisp salad greens. Place cantaloupe slices beside pear halves. Arrange banana slices and marschino cherries in center of each pear half. Serve with favorite fruit dressing.

Bartlett Pear Pie
(Makes 6 to 8 servings)

Four cups sliced Bartlett pears, ½ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, ¼ cup brown sugar, ½ cup flour, ¼ cup butter or margarine, ½ cup chopped nuts, 1 9-inch pastry shell.

Wash, eel and core pearls. Wash, peel and core pearls. Dice; mix with sugar, cornstarch, lemon juice, and rind. Combine brown sugar, flour, butter and the chopped nuts; mix until crumbly. Sprinkle half of crumb mixture into bottom of pastry lined pie pan. Spread layer of pears, then top with remaining crumb mixture. Bake at 425 degrees F. for 40 to 45 minutes. Serve warm with whiped cream or ice cream.

Macaroni Salad

1 tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ounces), 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 pound frankfurters, diced, 1 medium-sized onion, sliced, ½ cup vinegar, 1¼ cups diced Swiss cheese (about 1-3 lb.), ½ cup French dressing, salt and pepper to taste.

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Meanwhile, melt butter or margarine; add frankfurters and cook until browned on all sides. Add onion and cook 5 minutes. Add remaining ingredients and cook until cheese melts. Pour frankfurter - cheese mixture over macaroni and toss lightly.

Combine Sardines, Vegetables

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Sardines and fresh vegetables make a delicious hands-across-the-continent combination. With Richard E. Reed of the Maine Sardine Council, we sailed up the Maine coast observing firsthand that state's growing sardine industry—the production of top quality and relatively low fat protein at little cost.

Also, with Alan T. Rains of the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association, we drove for 10 days through fertile California and Arizona, seeing mile after mile of fruit and vegetable production.

So what should an all-American food editor do? The answer is deliciously simple — combine sardines from Maine's chilly waters with produce from the West's sun-drenched acres.

Stuffed Avocados

Two firm avocados, one 3¼ to 4-ounce can Maine sardines, 1 can crabmeat, flaked; ½ cup chopped celery, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise.

Cut avocados in half and remove seed. Scoop some of the avocado pulp from each half, leaving about ½ inch pulp around sides and bottom. Mash drained sardines, add crabmeat, celery and mayonnaise. Pile mixture into each pear half. Bake in 350 degree F. oven for about 15 minutes.

Stuffed Onions

Four to 5 large sweet onions, one 3½ to 4-ounce can Maine sardines, drained; 2 tablespoons Cheddar cheese spread, 1 cup soft bread crumbs, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 egg.

Parboil onions, about 10 minutes. Remove centers, leaving ¾-inch outside to form cup. Drain centers and chop. Mash sardines, combine with chopped onion and remaining ingredients. Fill onion cups with mixture and bake in moderate (350 degrees F.) oven for 15-20 minutes.

Sardine Stuffed Tomatoes
(Serves 4-5)

Four to 5 firm tomatoes, two 3¼ to 4-ounce cans Maine sardines, 4 hard-cooked eggs, chopped; 1 cup prepared stuffing mix, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley.

Scoop pulp from tomatoes and save. Drain sardines and set aside 4 or 5 for garnish. Mash remaining sardines, add tomato pulp and remaining ingredients. Mix well and fill tomatoes with mixture. Bake in 350 degrees F. oven for 15-20 minutes. Garnish each tomato with a whole sardine before serving.

Breakfast Necessary For Teens

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

It's time to do a little serious thinking about the importance of a good breakfast—in this case, teen-agers in particular.

There' a vivacious young woman in Chicago, Jean Smith, a junior at Morgan Park High School, and a fashion model on weekends and after school, who takes her breakfast seriously.

I don't see how my girl friends can bypass breakfast," Jean ay. "If I ever skip mine, I'm simply starved by midnorning. Find it hard to pay attention in classes if I'm hungry. So I always get up in time to enjoy a good breakfast."

Trim of figure, brimful of spirits, an honor student, president of the Tri-Hi Y Council of the Y.M.C.A., active in the youth group at church, Jean is proof that a teen-age girl can eat a full breakfast and keep herself attractively slender.

"I always eat fruit juice, cereal, bread and butter and milk for breakfast," she explained. "Then I don't crave those snacks like malts and candy bars that put on extra pounds."

One of her favorite breakfast "varieties" is a cereal parfait—a layer of ready-to-eat cereal and a layer of fruit, such as cinnamon applesauce, repeated until large dish is filled. Served with milk.

Not much of a cook, she admits. But she has one no-bake cookie recipe for parties and bake sales at school. Here is her recipe.:

CEREAL Toffee Squares

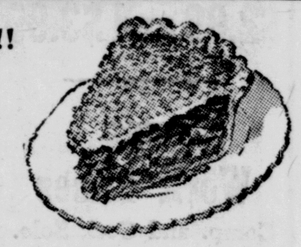

Cookie Mixture: One-third cup butter or margarine, ½ cup creamy - style peanut butter, 1 pound marshamallows, 1 tablespoon milk, 4 cups crisp corn puffs, puffed wheat, puffed rice, or presweetened puffed cereal.

Topping: Two (6-ounce) packages semisweet chocolate bits, ½ cup salted peanuts, chopped; ¾ cup of any of the above cereals (cereal selected for cookie mixture should be used as topping.)

Combine butter, peanut butter, marhmallows and milk in a heavy pan. Place over low heat and stir constantly until all ingredeints are melted and smooth. Add cereal an stir until all cereal is coated with peanut butter mixture. Remove from heat an turn mixture into 2 greased pans 11¾x1¾ inches. Press into even layer. Melt chocolate bits in top of double boiler. Spread half of chocolate over each pan of cookies and sprinkle tops with chopped peanuts and creal. Cut into bars or squares.

Italian Spinach

Ingredients: 1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped spinach, 2 quarts boiling water, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon olive oil, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 clove garlic (crushed), 3 tablespoons grated fine-flavored Parmesan cheese.

Method: Place spinach, boiling water and salt in a medium-sized kettle over high heat; break up frozen spinach with a fork. Cover and boil rapidly until tender—about 5 minutes. Turn into a colander to drain; lightly press out most of the remaining liquid with a fork.

Return drained spinach to kettle with oil, butter, crushed garlic and 1 tablespoon of the cheese; turn with fork over high heat to "fry" slightly. Turn into small shallow baking dish — an 8-inch heat resistant glass pie plate is fine. Sprinkle with remaining 2 tablespoons cheese.

Inviting Jellied Salad Gives Cook Day Off

This salad is a supper dish you can prepare the day before and hold in the refrigerator. You have ready an inviting dish that calls for no preparation on the day you serve it.

And of course, that "all ready" feature also makes this a dish for a Sunday night buffet, or for Saturday lunch, or for any light meal you wish to put on the table in a hurry.

Jellied Salad

1 envelope unflavored gelatin, ¼ cup cold water, 1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple, 1 package orange-flavored gelatin, 2 cups canned apple sauce, 1 lb. can whole cranberry sauce, ¼ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 2 cups diced celery, 1 pound cottage cheese, ½ pint sour cram.

Soak unflavored gelatin in ¼ cup cold water for 5 minutes. Drain pineapple; add enough water to syrup to make 1½ cups. Heat. Pour over orange-flavored gelatin; add unflavored gelatin.

Stir until both are dissolved. Cool. Combine pineapple, apple sauce, cranberry sauce, sugar and orange rind; mix until well blended. Add celery. Add gelatin to the fruits; mix well. Pour into 7 cup ring mold, chill until firm.

Unmold on salad greens. Combine cottage cheese and sour cream; place in center of ring mold.

METROPOLITAN FEDERATIONS

Proposing to amend Article X of the constitution of the state of Ohio by adding sections 5 and 6 thereto relative to metropolitan federations.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, Three-fifths of the members of each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state, in the manner prescribed by law, at the election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1958, a proposition to amend Article X of the Constitution of the state of Ohio by adding thereto a new section as follows:

ARTICLE X

Section 5. In the entire area af any county in which the most populous city based upon the latest preceding federal decennial census has a population of more than fifty thousand, a metropolitan federation of all townships, municipalities, and the county may be formed by charter to serve the entire area. In any lesser area within one county which area includes the most populous city of such county which, based upon the latest preceding federal decennial census has a population of more than fifty thousand, a metropolitan federation of townships or municipalities or both may be formed by charter to serve such area. Within the area proposed to be included in the metropolitan federation, the legislative authority of the most populous city or the Board of County Commissioners of the county may, by a two-thirds vote of its members, or shall, upon a petition stating the area to be included and signed by the number of electors of such stated area not less in number than ten per cent of the total number of votes cast for governor at the last preceding election therefor, by resolution stating the area to be included, submit to such electors of the area the question, "Shall a metropolitan federation charter commission be chosen?" The question shall be voted upon at the next general or primary election, occurring not sooner than ninety days after the adoption of the resolution. The ballot containing the question shall bear no party designation, and provision shall be made thereon for the election from the area at large of fifteen electors of such area as such commission if a majority of the electors voting on the question shall have voted in the affirmative. Candidates for such commission shall be nominated by petition of not less than one hundred and not more than five hundred electors of the metropolitan area, which shall be filed with the election authorities not less than sixty days prior to such election. Candidates shall be declared elected in the order of the number of votes received, beginning with the candidate receiving the largest number; but not more than seven candidates residing in the same municipality or township shall be eligible to be declared elected. Within twelve months after its election, such commission shall frame a charter for the area stated in the resolution and shall then by resolution order the submission of the same to the electors of such area. Such charter shall be voted upon in such area at the next general election occurring not sooner than ninety days after the adoption of the resolution, and the commission shall mail or otherwise distribute a copy thereof to each of the electors of the area as far as may be reasonably possible.

Every such charter shall provide the form of government of the metropolitan federation and shall determine which of its officers shall be elected and the manner of their election. Any such charter shall designate the powers vested in and the duty or duties to be performed by the metropolitan federation. Any such charter shall provide for the election by the electors of the metropolitan federation of the officers exercising legislative powers thereunder and the principal officer exercising executive powers thereunder. Such charter may provide for the exercise by the federation of any of the powers vested by the Constitution or laws of Ohio in townships and municipalities and in counties where an entire county is to be included within the area. Only such powers as are designated in the charter may be exercised by the federation and those powers not designated shall be reserved to the townships, municipalities, and any county, included therein. Such charter may provide for the concurrent or exclusive exercise by the metropolitan federation, in all or part of its area, of all or any of the designated powers. It may provide for the succession by the federation to the rights, properties, and obligations of townships, municipalities, and any county therein incident to the township, municipal, and county power vested in the federation, and for the division of the federation into districts for purposes of administration or of taxation or of both. Notwithstanding anything contained in any other article of this constitution, township and municipal powers and duties and the powers and duties of any county included in the area may be delegated to the metropolitan federation and to the extent that such powers and duties are so delegated as provided in the charter, such metropolitan federation shall participate in the destribution of township, municipal, and county revenues.

No such charter or amendment thereto shall become effective until it shall have been approved by a majority of those voting thereon (1) in the entire area included by the provisions of the charter, (2) in the most populous city in the included territory and (3) in the area outside the most populous city, in the area. Every charter or amendments thereto shall take effect on the thirtieth day after such approval unless another date be fixed therein. A copy of such charter or amendment shall be filed with the secretary of state.

The legislative authority provided in the charter, may, by a two-thirds vote or shall upon petition signed by the number of electors of such area not less in number than ten per cent of the total number of votes cast for governor in the area at the last preceding election therefor, submit amendments to the charter to the electors of the area for approval or disapproval in the same manner provided for the adoption of the charter. Such legislative authority shall mail or otherwise distribute a copy thereof to each of the electors of the area as far as may be reasonably possible. When more than one amendment is submitted at the same time, they shall be so submitted so as to enable the electors to vote on each separately. In case of conflict between the provisions of two or more amendments approved at the same time that provision shall prevail which received the highest affirmative vote.

Upon petition signed by the number of electors of any municipality or township contiguous to a metropolitan federation within the same county not less in number than ten per cent of the total number of votes cast for governor at the last preceding election therefor, with the consent of the legislative authority of the metropolitan federation, the question "shall the municipality or township be joined to the metropolitan federation?" shall be submitted to the electors of such political subdivision proposed to be joined. In any area contiguous to a metropolitan federation within the same county in which a majority of the electors approve joining the federation, the charter shall become effective.

Section 6. The exercise of any power vested in municippal corporations under Article Eighteen of this constitution by any county or metropolitan federation under the provisions of section three or section five of this article shall be subject to the constitutional limitations which apply to municipal corporations.

SCHEDULE

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members of each House concurring, that at the election designated for the submission of an amendment to Article X of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, adding sections 5 and 6 thereto relative to metropolitan federations, by the provisions of Amended Substitute House Joint Resolution No. 24, 102nd General Assembly, Regular Session, filed in the office of the Secretary of State on the 6th day of June, 1957, the same shall be placed on the official ballot by the Secretary of State in essetially the following form:

YES	To amend Article X of the Constitution to permit voters in a metropolitan area within a county containing a city of 50,000 population to form a federation of contiguous townships and municipalities where the most popopulous municipality is included, and to form a federation which may include the county government if the entire area of the county is included, such federation to exercise the powers and duties designated by a charter, framed by an elected commission, and approved by a majority of those voting in the largest municipality, and a majority in the balance of the area outside such municipality.
NO

The required publication of said proposed amendment relative to metropolitan federations shall be made and the form of the ballot to be used in said election for the submission thereof shall be prepared by the Secretary of State of the State of Ohio in essential conformity with the above provisions.

Engine No, 57

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Four or five times a month, Capt. Roald L. Olsen takes his fire engine out into New York harbor to embrace some very important visitor with a warm and wet welcoming kiss.

As skipper of the fireboat John D. McKean, otherwise known as engine No. 57, Olsen functions as a sort of Grover Whalen greeter with barnacle and without carnation. His job is to wave the official municipal hello with nozzles.

Since a good many dignitaries of various rank and renown go flitting in and out of New York in any given month, Olsen has to gauge the gush of his greeting to the importance of the celebrity.

Someone like Winston Churchill, who has sampled Olsen's spume, would rate the maximum cascade of cordiality. That is eight boats in the fire department fleet gathered round in a ring and each pumping up 10,000 gallons of seawater a minute in sprays 100 feet high.

It's a sight that the visitor is apt to remember all his life, particularly if a stiff breeze fans a few hundred gallons across his brow.

"When the atomic submarine Nautilu got back from the North Pole, we even broke out two or three rail hoses on each side of the boat, in addition to the five big monitor guns on deck," Olsen recalled. "it was raining very hard, but that was a very special occasion so it called for more water."

The extra rail pipes put the Nautilus on a social level with the Queen of England.

The lesser nobility or events, say the arrival of a new U.N. delegation or the opening of a new pier, might rate only two or three boats, depending on their standing in aquatic protocol.

"It's like deciding whether someone should get an 11- or a 21-gun salute," Olsen explained. "Fortunately, we don't have to make the decision. The fire commissioner, sometimes even the State Department decides how how many boats will go and what they'll do."

Sometimes, if a waterfront fire should break out at the same time, an eight-boat big shot is liable to find himself without a trickle of welcome.

"When the alarm sounds," said Olsen, "we turn right around and head for the fire, no matter how small it is or how big the visitor is. That's our primary job, after all. The eight boats have to patrol 578 miles of waterfront, and we often get called down to Jersey or out to Long Island to help fight a ship or pier blaze."

Disbarred Attorney Is Still Practicing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A committee of the Ohio State Bar Assn. asked the Ohio Supreme Court today to prevent J. Harvey Crow of Urbana, a disbarred attorney, from continuing to practice law.

The Unauthorized Practice of Law Committee composed of 38 attorneys, claimed that Crow "is being contemptuous" of the court through his continued activities.

Atorneys claimed those activities are in violaton of state law, which carries no panalty for violation and rules of the court. They said conviction for contempt would make Crow liable to a fine and jail sentence.

Crow has been dsbarred as an attorney twice. The first time was in 1935 by Stark County Common Pleas Court. That court reinstated him in 1950. Common Pleas Court of Champaign acounty isbarred him Aug. 16, 1956, and an appellate court affirmed the action May 24, 1957.

The committee claimed that although Crow has not been an attorney since the 1957 date, he has continued to practice law in at least eight counties, they were listed as Franklin, Fayette, Champaign, Madison, Logn, Allen, Hamilton and Montgomery.

The group said Crow's legal activities included appearance before the state liquor board, the taking of depositions in a case before Champaign County Common Pleas Court, pleadings in U.S. District Bankruptcy Court and generally holding himself out as an attorney.

The Ohio Supreme Court has sole jurisdiction in discipline maiters nvolvng attorneys.
